The U.S. Mission in Monrovia is seeking eligible and qualified applicants for the position of Public Health Specialist (Infection Prevention Control Technical Advisor) within the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Office (CDC).

NOTE: Due to the high volume of applications received, we will only contact applicants who are being considered. Thank you for your understanding.

BASIC FUNCTION OF POSITION

The incumbent serves as a senior Infection Prevention and Control (IPC) advisor providing technical assistance to the Ministry of Health (MoH) and in-country partners to plan, implement, and evaluate activities related to IPC. The incumbent will assist the MoH in partner coordination, organization of technical working groups, and policy development. The CDC IPC specialist will assist host country and other stakeholders with developing and implementing practices and policies to improve prevention, investigation, monitoring and reporting of the spread of diseases in healthcare facilities. The job includes education of healthcare workers regarding infection control protocols and policies. Incumbent will work with MoH and key technical partners to develop and promote the implementation of an IPC Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) plan, and provide on-going technical support for IPC data collection and analysis. Job holder will represent CDC/Liberia at technical, policy and strategic planning meetings related to IPC, including meetings with collaborators and donor agencies.

QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED

Applicants must address each required qualification listed below with specific information supporting each item. Failure to do so may result in a determination that the applicant is not qualified.

1. EDUCATION: A master’s degree (post-graduate degree and requiring at least 1 year of full-time study (or the equivalent hours spread across a part-time study period) or equivalent post-graduate degree qualification) in Nursing, Medical Sciences or Public Health is required.

2. EXPERIENCE: Minimum of five years progressively responsible work in care of persons with infectious diseases. Additional two years of experience interacting with subordinates and professional staff from other institutions or organizations. This experience should also include working with the Ministry of Health, the Liberia public health system, and/ or with Non-Governmental Organizations in a management or advisory capacity are required.

3. LANGUAGE: Level IV (fluency - speaking/reading/writing) in English is required. (This will be tested)

4. A thorough knowledge of Ebola Virus Disease (EVD) and other infectious diseases is required, as is knowledge of EVD-related counseling, infection prevention and control, and public health surveillance and information systems. Must be able to develop appropriate policies, protocols and detailed guidelines in the absence of specified procedures. Knowledge of computers, including Windows, word processing, and e-mail is required. The incumbent must possess knowledge of host country specific health delivery systems. Working knowledge of the objectives and operations of the United States Government (USG), or the program activities of other international donor organizations is required. In-depth specialist knowledge of public health programs, strategies, methods, processes and techniques used to plan, develop, implement and evaluate results of public health disease programs is required. Good working knowledge of team management techniques to plan, organize and direct multi-disciplinary project teams and activities is required. Good working knowledge of overall administrative requirements, budgeting and fiscal management in support of contracts/cooperative agreements/grants/purchase requisitions is required.

5. Must possess the sensitivity and maturity to deal appropriately with EVD and IPC issues. A demonstrated ability to work effectively with persons at all levels of the public health system is also required. Strong oral and written communications skills are required to develop and maintain effective, sustainable working relationships with other USG, host country, national and international working partners and to prepare required written reports. Strong leadership skills are required to lead results-driven project teams and workgroups. Ability to analyze, understand and discuss new program design, management and implementation approaches is required. The incumbent will be expected to exercise considerable ingenuity and tact in applying IPC guidelines to unique and different settings. Considerable innovation will be required to influence other collaborative organizations engaged in Ebola and other infectious disease efforts to adopt IPC appropriate strategies for their program activities.
